

International Association for Identification

Recommended Course of Study for Footwear & Tire Track Examiners[©]

*Neither an individual nor an agency should rely solely on this or any other course of study for becoming an expert.
Ongoing communication with other examiners and participation in current training activities are both vital to the true expert status of any forensic analyst.*

Subcommittee on Footwear and Tire Track Examination
International Association for Identification
1991 - 1994

Compiled and Edited by

*John K. Neuner
North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation*

Copyright 1995 by the International Association for Identification

All rights reserved. No part of this work may be reproduced, stored in any system, or transmitted in any form, electrical, magnetic, mechanical, photocopying, microfilming, or other means without permission, in writing, from the International Association for Identification.

Additional copies of this recommended course of study may be obtained from the office of the Executive Secretary of the International Association for Identification:

Joseph P. Polski
Executive Secretary
2535 Pilot Knob Road, Suite 117
Mendota Heights, MN 55120-1120

(651) 681-8566 — Voice
(651) 681-8443 — Fax

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	1
Intent	2
Objectives	3
Student Qualifications	4
Instructor Qualifications	5
Course Duration	6
Ancillary Programs	9
Maintenance of Student Notebook	10
Administration of Course of Study	11
Books	12
Articles, Periodicals and Journals	13
Suggested Reading Materials	15
Terminology/Diction	16

Study Segments

1. History and Introduction to the Value of Footwear and Tire Track/Mark Evidence	17
2. Terminology	18
3. Manufacturing Processes for Footwear and Tires	19
4. Photography of Track/Mark Evidence	20
5. Introduction to the Enhancement, Recovery and Preservation of Footwear and Tire Track/Mark Evidence	21
6. Enhancement of Footwear and Tire Track/Mark Evidence	22
7. Recovery of Track/Mark Evidence by Lifting and Casting	23
8. Comparative Examinations	24
9. Decision Making in Footwear and Tire Track/Mark Comparisons	25
10. Special Applications in Footwear and Tire Track/Mark Evidence	26
11. Supervised Casework	27
12. Case Note Preparation and Report Writing	28
13. Legal Considerations and Courtroom Testimony	29

APPENDICES

- A. Suggested Reading for Study Segments 30 - 53
- B. Practical and/or Written Exercises for Study Segments 54 - 68
- C. Sample Study Questions for Study Segments 69 - 78

NOTE: The questions presented are intended only as a study aid. The answers have purposely been omitted to encourage student research and/or discussions between the student and the training coordinator.

Sample Study Questions are not provided for Study Segments 11, 12 and 13.

Actual written or oral examinations for each study segment should be developed by the assigned training coordinator.

- D. Bibliography of Published Articles, Unpublished Papers and Books 79 - 101

NOTE: The bibliography of Published and Unpublished papers are listed alphabetically by title to facilitate the student in locating information related to a specific topic(s) of interest.

Any omission of existing published works was entirely unintentional.

- E. Information Regarding the IAI Roster of Footwear & Tire Track Examiners 102